TERRAIN AND MAP:

This year's Cattle-let-out competition and Easter middle distance race is going to take place in the pleasant and easy to pass forests of Krabi, in Võru country. The terrain is predominantly characterized by good to very good passability, featuring low-ridged landscapes with plenty of small ridges and marshy areas. The elevation differences range up to 10 meters. The majority of the terrain exhibits a varied relief with heights varying by a few meters, providing an enjoyable experience for orienteering enthusiasts. There is a network of medium-density roads, paths, and trails. Mixed forest dominates the area, with several clear-cut areas and young stands of different ages. The western part of the terrain extending to the village of Pähni is very gently ridged, whereas the eastern part towards Krabi village offers consistently varied relief, making it an excellent terrain for a middle course.
